Dear Parents, Guardians, and Students,

During this unparalleled time, we would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your continued support and understanding as we adapt to the constant changes and continue to work together to provide the best possible continuity of education for our students. As we practice social distancing it is common to feel as if we are on this journey alone; however, we assure you that the administration, the faculty, and staff are ready to help in any way we can.

As we enter the second week of this extraordinary time, we remain active as a school community in planning and delivering educational and faith opportunities. In keeping with our mission, we chose to be responsible for the ongoing education of our students throughout this crisis. We are following the diocesan curriculum guidelines and progressing through the objectives in a way that meets the specific needs of the GCC community.

As we are all encountering new circumstances that require prayer, patience, and ingenuity, remember this is a shared experience. We encourage you to reach out to the school if you are struggling in any way. Feedback from parents and students is essential as we continue to discover new ways to address the GCC community and the new learning environment. We must work together as a school community to ensure the growth and well-being of our students.

During an unprecedented time in our history, we will continue to offer opportunities to unite as a community in prayer. May God bless you and your family with good health and well-being throughout this crisis. We look forward to seeing everyone back at GCC as soon as possible. You remain in our prayers.

Glory to God Alone,

Benjamin Althof and Nicole Marchese
